Prep History Week

It's been a busy week with our History Week event in Prep. To help our students visualise important events and people from history, our teachers included exciting activities in this week's lessons, such as a trip to the National Archives and a history costume Children were encouraged to dress up as a historical figure of their choice and prepare a presentation to share with their class. Our History Week proved to be an amazing opportunity to teach our children about history in a fun and engaging way. The Prep School students learned about different historical figures and periods through various activities and presentations.

Boarding Life

Our boarding students enjoy a well-structured schedule aimed at fostering both academic excellence and life skills.
On weekdays, after returning from school, students are greeted with snacks and tea.

A one-hour break precedes the 5:00 to 6:00 pm Prep Time (study time). Dinner is served at 6:00 pm, followed by an additional Prep Time later in the evening. This ensures a balanced routine, allowing students 30 minutes of reading time every day to rest and prepare for the next school day.

Weekends are a blend of activities and focused study. Saturdays are dedicated to engaging activities, while Sundays provide an opportunity for Prep Time and catching up on homework. Biweekly trips around London and occasional day trips to other UK cities offer students a chance to immerse themselves in the vibrant British culture.

Children In Need

In a recent school assembly, Year 10 students passionately elucidated the significance of supporting the Children In Need initiative, organized by the BBC on the 17th November 2023. The informative session shed light on the vital role this charity plays in improving the lives of disadvantaged children. The students eloquently articulated the school's commitment to making a positive impact and fostering a sense of social responsibility within the student body. Their compelling presentation not only raised awareness about the Children In Need organisation but also inspired fellow students to actively contribute to this noble cause. It was a heartening display of our school community coming together to make a difference in the lives of those in need. Such initiatives underscore our dedication to instilling values of compassion and empathy in our students.

Mrs Dhrona emphasized the school's commitment to creating a secure and nurturing environment. The training also focused on clear communication through reporting, ensuring effective collaboration between teachers, parents, and the school administration. The session highlighted the dedication to addressing any gaps in student learning promptly, particularly regarding "Children absent from and missing education." Additionally, insights into a lateness matrix were provided, offering a structured approach to manage and address tardiness. The training also extended its focus to Filtering and Monitoring on the internet, shedding light on the importance of ensuring a safe online space for our students The training served as a valuable opportunity for professional growth and enhanced collaboration among NLGS educators.

Year 5 Trip to The Royal Observatory

Year 5 recently enjoyed an educational excursion to the Royal Observatory in Greenwich, the 23rd November 2023, marking the beginning of their 'Earth and Space' unit in Science. The trip provided a unique opportunity for students to delve into the mysteries of the universe through an immersive planetarium show. They gained valuable insights into the relative sizes and distances between planets, moons, and the Sun.

The visit was not only informative but also hands-on, allowing students to explore the Prime Meridian, a crucial north-south line selected as the zero reference line for astronomical observations. This experience not only enhanced their understanding of celestial bodies but also offered a tangible connection to the scientific principles they are studying in class.

Staff-Wellbeing
Theme: Healthy Eating
Date: the 22nd November 2023

SCREEN TIME:

Recommended limits for kids

UNDER 2 YEARS OLD

Zero screen time, except for video chatting with family or friends

2-5 YEARS OLD

No more than one hour per day co-viewing with a parent or sibling

5-17 YEARS OLD

Generally no more than two hours per day, except for homework

Too much screen time can be linked to:

- Obesity: Increased risk with more TV/video exposure, especially if a child has electronic devices in their bedroom. Advertisements can contribute to a preference for unhealthy food, leading to overeating.
- Irregular Sleep: Prolonged screen time linked to difficulty falling asleep and irregular sleep schedules. Sleep loss can result in fatigue and increased snacking.
- Behavioural Problems: Children spending over two hours daily on screens may experience emotional, social, and attention issues. Video game exposure is associated with a higher likelihood of attention problems.
- Impaired Academic Performance: Elementary students with screens in their bedrooms tend to perform worse on tests compared to those without.
- Violence: Excessive exposure to media violence can desensitize children, potentially normalizing violent behaviour as a problem-solving method.
- Less Time for Physical Play: Excessive screen time limits opportunities for active, creative play crucial for a child's development.

Parents are encouraged to monitor and limit their child's screen time, discussing the importance of a balanced lifestyle with reduced sedentary activity and increased movement. Establishing clear screen time rules and explaining consequences for non-compliance can contribute to a healthier lifestyle for children.

Pedestrian Entrance Advisory: When arriving at school on foot, kindly use the pedestrian door for a seamless entry experience. There is a buzzer next to the Pedestrian Entrance for calling the school receptionist Gentle Operation: The pedestrian door opens gradually; please refrain from physically engaging with it to ensure the smooth functioning of the automatic system.

Vehicle Entrance Caution: If you are not coming by vehicle, please avoid using the vehicle entrance and use the designated pedestrian entrance for convenience and safety. Your cooperation ensures an efficient and secure entry process for all.

National Archives Trip - Prep Students

My team possessed a millennium-old book from the Middle Ages, containing diverse writings, with some of the ink on its pages faded. Notably, the margins featured drawings of a polar bear gifted to King Henry III in 1252, which was known to swim in the Thames! - Jaimin, Year 3.

At the National Archives, there exists a vast room encompassing 12 million document boxes, equivalent in size to 16 football pitches. Engaging in a workshop, we had the opportunity to explore numerous original treasures from bygone eras, identifying and describing these items. Subsequently, we sketched our chosen treasures, providing reasons for their significance. - Ben, Year 4.

It proved fascinating as we examined numerous well-preserved ancient artifacts. Analyzing images, we deduced their nature and estimated their origins. Capturing moments from the past, we observed photographs featuring suffragettes Evelyn Manesta and Lillian Forester, both instrumental in advocating for women's rights. Their activism, including the notable incident of damaging an art gallery in Manchester, marked a courageous stance for the cause. Cila, Year 5.

Our focus shifted to tally sticks used for monetary counting in the 13th Century. Resembling wooden knives, these sticks were crafted from willow trees. The intriguing practice involved cutting the stick in half as a receipt when purchasing an item. To verify a return, the two halves of the stick were rejoined. - Faisal. Year 6.

Importance of Water: Water is essential for our well-being, supporting vital bodily functions such as nutrient transportation, waste elimination, joint protection, and temperature regulation.

Beverage Choice Matters: Opt for water as your primary beverage to maintain health. Steer clear of sugary alternatives like soda or juice, known for their high-calorie content.

Personalized Hydration Goals: General recommendations suggest 13 cups for men, 9 cups for women (2 liters), 10 cups for pregnant women, 12 cups for breastfeeding women, and 6-8 cups for kids and teens, with adjustments based on individual factors.

Natural Sources of Hydration: Consuming water-rich fruits and vegetables aids in meeting daily hydration goals. Seek guidance from your doctor or dietitian for personalized recommendations.

Debunking Sports Drinks: While advertised for intense exercise, sports drinks, rich in electrolytes and sugars, are typically unnecessary for non-athletes.

Word Millionaire Achievements: Celebrating Reading Milestones!

We are thrilled to share the latest accomplishments in our Word Millionaire initiative, an inspiring programme that encourages a love for reading and healthy competition among our students.

How It Works:

When a student completes reading a book, they undertake a quiz on Accelerated Reader to assess their comprehension. To successfully pass a quiz, children must achieve a minimum of 80% accuracy. The words read are then meticulously counted and compiled throughout the academic year.

Becoming a Word Millionaire:

Our students are enthusiastically striving to become Word Millionaires! The achievements are announced during our school assemblies, where students eagerly move their names on the Word Millionaire display located in the library.

Fostering a Love for Reading:

This initiative not only promotes healthy competition but also instils a genuine passion for reading. The unique aspect of the programme lies in the fact that words are only counted when students successfully pass a quiz. This encourages them to immerse themselves in the joy of reading and enjoy their books rather than merely accumulating points.

Happy Reading!

During a special assembly for Maths Week, Mr. Lafcioglu fervently highlighted the profound significance of mathematics. He passionately emphasised the crucial role digits play as indispensable shortcuts in our daily lives, encouraging students to embrace the subject with enthusiasm. His engaging session aimed to cultivate a deeper appreciation for the subject, inspiring a collective celebration of the power that numbers hold in shaping our understanding of the world.

Safeguarding Audit

Education Child Protection (ECP) conducted a thorough Safeguarding Audit at North London Grammar School on 24th November 2023. The audit encompassed various facets of school life, including observing student arrivals, engaging with the Headteacher/DSL, conducting a site walk, and holding discussions with the Safeguarding Governor. Additionally, representatives from academic, pastoral, and support staff were consulted, ensuring a comprehensive understanding of the school's safeguarding measures. The involvement of students in the process reflects a commitment to fostering a safe and secure learning environment. The results of this audit will undoubtedly contribute to the continuous enhancement of safeguarding practices at the school.

NLGS win 3-0

In an exhilarating match against Saracens High School at Barnet Copthall playing fields, our Year 7 football team showcased outstanding skill and determination. Nerves and excitement filled the air as I took on the role of goalkeeper. Abraham netted the first goal, setting the tone for a victorious first half. A near miss for a second goal followed, sparked by a powerful kick up the pitch. The momentum continued in the second half with Marti and Abraham securing additional goals. A standout moment for me included a swift chest block and expertly parried save. Honoured to be named Man of the Match by Mr Fernandes, pride filled the air after a remarkable team performance.

TIPS TO SUPPORT SUCCESSFUL HOME - LEARNING

Check up their homework

Encourage your child to follow the homework schedule provided by the school.

Check and sign their planner, if there is no homework, this time should be used for revision.

Having a good sleeping routine

Ensure your child has a good sleeping routine with 8-10 hours sleep to help them maintain concentration both in lessons and during extra home learning/revision.

It is good to ensure that they stop watching tv/ use of their mobile phone/ computer (anything emitting blue light) at least one hour before sleeping to ensure healthy deep sleep. This will help them improve memory and mood.

Regular exercise

Ensure your child has some exercise/ walks in the fresh air during study routines.

Exercise helps the heart pump more oxygen rich blood around the body as well as releasing endorphins. This will help them improve immunity, memory and mood.

Give them support.

Have regular chats with your child. Reassure them that you are there to help them succeed.

It is ok not to be ok. Show love, empathy and understanding towards their problems.

Help them to break down big tasks into smaller ones, everything is possible! Get in touch with the school if you need further support- we are here to help you if you need us.

Having a revision timetable

Sit down and ask your child if they have made a revision plan. Note important deadlines. Take a copy and help them stick to the schedule. Always ensure they have short breaks in between study sessions.

A perfect place to study

Ensure your child has a study zone in your home. This is a guiet place with no phone, television or music. This place will have good lighting and a comfortable chair with table to work at.

This will be an area of minimal distraction with space for their books and stationary.

Eating Healthy

Ensure your child has healthy eating habits. Build a good routine encouraging them to eat breakfast, lunch and dinner. Try to avoid too much chocolate, crisps or fast foods

Also encourage them to drink water instead of caffeine or fizzy drinks/ juices. This will help them improve immunity, memory and mood.
