The School curriculum

This policy reflects measures established in law through the Equality Act 2010 and emphasises that NLGS opposes all forms of racism, homophobia, prejudice and discrimination. This Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND policy) will be enacted in accordance with this Act and the school's own single equality policy.

The Equality Act 2010 replaced all existing equality legislation such as the Race Relations Act, Disability Discrimination Act and Sex Discrimination Act.

Legislation & Guidance

This policy and the SEN Information Report are based on the statutory Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND) Code of Practice and the following legislation:

- Equality Act 2010
- Part 3 of the Children and Families Act 2014, which sets out schools' responsibilities for pupils with SEN and disabilities
- The Special Educational Needs and Disability Regulations 2014, which set out schools' responsibilities for education, health and care (EHC) plans, SEND Coordinators (SENDCOs) and the SEN information report.

are committed to the promotion of community cohesion at the School, local, national and global levels, comparing our School community to its local and national context and implementing all necessary actions in relation to:

- ethnicity,
- religion or belief, and
- socio-economic background.

In accordance with the values of NLGS we pledge:

- to respect the equal human rights of all our pupils;
- to educate them about equality; and
- to respect the equal rights of our staff and other members of the Academy community.

We will assess and analyse our current School practices and implement all necessary resulting actions to ensure pupils are not discriminated against because of their:

- Sex
- Race
- Disability
- Religion/belief
- Sexual orientation
- Gender re-assignment
- Pregnancy or maternity

These 'Protected characteristics' have been set out in law in the Equality Act 2010.

NLGS is committed to eliminating practices, which could result in unfair or less favourable treatment for persons with a protected characteristic.

Introduction and guiding principles

The inclusion of ALL children and young people of NLGS in working towards, and achieving, outstanding outcomes is essential if our mission is to be shared with the children and young people in our care.

Our mission is to work together to reduce any barriers that prevent our children from becoming confident, high achieving and independent individuals. NLGS's vision is of a community which provides an outstanding education for every individual attending it. NLGS will be a place of aspiration, where individuals, including all children with a special educational need and/or disability, matter and confidence flourishes so that achievement for all is outstanding.

pupils will be inspired to achieve excellence in all their endeavours within an innovative, creative and supportive environment. We are committed to working in partnership with stakeholders to secure the success of this policy.

This policy sets out the expectations and requirements for all stakeholders of the school.

Scope

This policy is implemented across the organisation. This Policy also applies to the governing board members, management and all staff. The school will ensure that the contents of this policy are communicated to all. All staff accept this policy when they join NLGS.

The school publishes this policy on its website. It is also posted on the NLGS own, separate website. It is made available to stakeholders.

This policy reflects the statutory requirements of legislation laid down in the Equality Act 2010 (see NLGS Equality Policy). Obligations under this legislation are also reflected in our 'equality objectives' which reflect equality priorities of the school including those with disabilities. Disability is stipulated under the 2010 Act as a 'protected characteristic'.

Aims

Our guiding principle is one of Inclusion. Quality First Teaching remains our first response in relation to the identification of SEND, but we also ensure that the child receives high quality additional support and interventions carefully matched to their needs. This includes appropriate differentiation for individual pupils, high quality resources and effective use of additional adult support where that would be beneficial. We aim to identify and break down possible barriers to learning so that all our pupils experience success. This does not mean treating all pupils equally; it means treating all pupils as individuals and ensuring they have the required provision to achieve the best possible progress.

All our pupils have the right to an education, which is appropriate to their needs. It is our aim to provide learning experiences that are differentiated to take account of the needs and attainments of each pupil. In doing this we aim to minimise the difficulties that pupils will experience. Despite our efforts, some children will experience significantly greater difficulty than others and these pupils will need special consideration and provision. In making such provision our policy objectives are:

1. To ensure that all pupils gain access to a broad and balanced curriculum and have an equal opportunity to receive an education that is appropriate to their needs.
2. To recognise that provision for children and young people with a special educational need or disability is the responsibility of ALL adults involved with the care and education of such young people and children.

3. To use our resources as efficiently and equitably as possible when assessing and meeting the special educational needs of our pupils.
4. To ensure that, as far as possible, pupils with special educational needs and/or disabilities can join in the everyday activities of the school along with pupils who do not have special educational needs.
5. To develop a partnership with parents in order that their knowledge, views and experience can assist us in assessing and providing for their children.
6. To ensure that children with SEN have opportunities to receive and make known information, to express an opinion, and have that opinion taken into account in any matters affecting them
7. To promote effective collaboration with external services, health services and social services in order to ensure effective action on behalf of pupils with special educational needs and/or disabilities.
8. To liaise with agencies to ensure that ALL staff are aware of their responsibilities towards pupils with special educational needs and/or disabilities and are able to exercise them.
9. Enable every student to experience success
10. The school will closely monitor and review progress towards these objectives.

Definitions

A pupil has SEN if they have a learning difficulty or disability, which calls for special educational provision to be made for them.

They have a learning difficulty or disability if they have:

- A significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age, OR
- A disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools.

Special educational provision is educational or training provision that is additional to, or different from, that made generally for other children or young people of the same age by mainstream schools.

Roles and Responsibilities

The school wishes to fulfil its statutory duties towards pupils with special educational needs and in accordance with the SEND policy. In order to do this, NLGS will support the Headteacher in their endeavours to secure adequate resources, and to allocate them appropriately. They will receive reports on the effectiveness of the Special Needs and Disabilities Policy and the identified members will participate in training as necessary.

Headteacher has overall responsibility for the management of provision.

The SENDCo will:

- Work with the Head of Headteacher and the governing board to determine the strategic development of the SEND policy and provision in the school.
- Have day-to-day responsibility for the operation of this SEND policy and the coordination of specific provision made to support individual pupils with SEND, including those who have EHC plans.
- Provide professional guidance to colleagues and work with staff, parents, and other agencies to ensure that pupils with SEN receive appropriate support and high-quality teaching.
- Advise on the graduated approach to providing SEND support.
- Advise on the deployment of the school's delegated budget and other resources to meet pupils' needs effectively.
- Be the point of contact for external agencies, especially the local authority and its support services.
- Liaise with potential next providers of education to ensure pupils and their parents are informed about options and a smooth transition is planned.
- Work with the Headteacher and governing board to ensure that the school meets its responsibilities under the Equality Act 2010 with regard to reasonable adjustments and access arrangements.
- Maintain the SEND register and overseeing the records of all pupils with special educational needs.
- Liaise with all relevant external agencies, including the educational psychology service and other support agencies, the health and social services and voluntary bodies.
- Contribute to the in-service training of all staff.
- Identify and assessing special needs and monitoring the progress of pupils.
- Prepare and co-ordinate the preparation of IEPs for EHCP and SEND Support pupils.
- Ensure strategies from EHCPs and IEPs are implemented by all school staff.
- Develop and maintain resources for pupils with SEND.
- Organise and attend review meetings.
- Deploy and support the professional development of SEN Co-Educators and other adults who work with young people in the school.

The Link Governor for SEND and the governing board will:

- Ensure SEN provision is an integral part of the school improvement plan.
- Ensure the necessary provision is made for any student with SEN.
- Ensure that all staff identify the needs of SEN students and provide accordingly.
- All staff have regard to the requirements of the SEN Code of Practice (2014) and the updated Children and Families Act (2014)
- Ensure that staff are fully informed about SEN issues

- Help to raise awareness of SEN issues at governance meetings.
- Monitor the quality and effectiveness of SEND provision within the school and update the governing board on this.
- Ensure the school's work for students with SEN is overseen by the SEN link governor.
- Work with the Headteacher and SENDCo to determine the strategic development of the SEND policy and provision in the school.

The Headteacher will:

- Work with the SENDCo, SEND link governor and governing board, to determine the strategic development of the SEND policy and provision in the school.
- Have overall responsibility for the provision and progress of learners with SEND.
- Have responsibility for the management of all aspects of the school's work, including provision for students with SEN
- keep the governing body informed about SEN issues
- Work closely with the SEN personnel within the school
- Make all staff aware of the need to identify and provide for students with SEN
- Ensure students with SEN join in school activities alongside other students, as far as is reasonably practical and compatible with their needs and the efficient education of other students
- See that the progress and attainment of children with special educational needs and/or looked after children are monitored and evaluated when reviewing the effectiveness of the school's support for children with SEN
- Notify parents if the school decides to make special educational provision for their child
- Have responsibility for the school's reporting to parents on the implementation of the school's SEN Policy
- Ensure that the implementation of this policy and the effects of inclusion policies on the school as a whole are monitored and reported to governors.

Each teacher is responsible for:

- The progress and development of every pupil in their class.
- Including students with SEN in the classroom, and for providing an appropriately differentiated curriculum.
- Working closely with any teaching assistants or specialist staff, to plan and assess the impact of support and interventions and how they can be linked to classroom teaching.
- Working with the SENDCo to review each pupil's progress and development and decide on any changes to provision.
- Ensuring they follow this SEND policy.

- Action relating to SEN support will follow a four-part cycle of ‘assess–plan–do–review’ as recommended in the SEND Code of Practice. Details can be found in the SEN Information Report.

Role of staff supporting pupils with SEND

It is the teacher’s responsibility to design effective and appropriate lessons to meet the needs of all learners. It must not be considered solely the domain of support staff; the teacher is the professional who takes the lead when planning lessons and differentiating the curriculum. The teacher must consult the Provision guidance/Support in Schools for SEND for strategies to support their teaching in the first instance.

Staff supporting pupils with SEND can work in a variety of ways under the direction of and in liaison with the teacher. They can help develop pupils’ literacy and numeracy skills, assist in identifying needs, encourage the inclusion of pupils with SEND, assist in improving behaviour where pupils have social, emotional and mental health difficulties and provide for pupils who have medical needs; work with individuals or groups of pupils under the direction of the teacher, monitor and record pupil progress.

Staff are expected to provide regular written feedback in the workbooks of the pupils they support and plan their work for each lesson, in consultation with the classroom teacher.

The kinds of SEN that are provided for NLGS currently provides additional and/or different provision for a range of needs, including:

- Communication and interaction, for example, autistic spectrum disorder, speech and language difficulties
- Cognition and learning, for example, literacy difficulties including dyslexia, numeracy difficulties including dyscalculia, dyspraxia
- Social, emotional and mental health difficulties, for example, attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD), Oppositional Defiance Disorder (ODD)
- Sensory and/or physical needs, for example, visual impairments, hearing impairments, processing difficulties, epilepsy.

We recognise that, in practice, individual children often have needs that cut across more than one of these areas and that their needs may change over time. Our purpose is not to ‘label’ a child, but to work out what action the school needs to take. We consider the needs of the whole child and ensure that support is focused on individual need and personal outcomes rather than classification/label.

Admissions

Admission arrangements are outlined on the school website.

Where a child due for admission is known to have special educational needs the school SENDCo will gather appropriate information from the setting the child has been attending if applicable; and from other agencies known to have been involved, and subsequently share this information with relevant school staff.

When admitting children with SEND, the school must:

- Ensure decisions relating to their education are informed by the views and knowledge of the parents and pupil.
- Have high ambitions and set stretching targets.
- Track their progress towards these goals.
- Keep under review the different or additional provision that is made for them.
- Promote positive outcomes in the wider areas of personal and social development.
- Ensure that the approaches used are based on the best possible evidence and are having the required impact on progress.
- To the maximum extent possible, ensure that pupils with SEND engage in the activities of the school alongside their fellow pupils.

Identifying pupils with SEN and assessing their needs

We will assess each pupil's current skills and levels of attainment on entry, which will build on previous settings and Key Stages, where appropriate. Class teachers will make regular assessments of progress for all pupils and identify those whose progress:

- Is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline
- Fails to match or better the child's previous rate of progress
- Fails to close the attainment gap between the child and their peers
- Widens the attainment gap (wide chronological difference) This may include progress in areas other than attainment, for example, social needs.

Slow progress and low attainment will not automatically mean a pupil is recorded as having SEN. When deciding whether special educational provision is required, we will start with the desired outcomes, including the expected progress and attainment, and the views and the wishes of the pupil and their parents. We will use this to determine the support that is needed and whether we can provide it by adapting our core offer, or whether something different or additional is needed.

We take a four-part approach to identify and support pupils. Each stage must be followed thoroughly before an EHCP assessment is considered.

1. Quality First Teaching:

- Teachers use strategies from the Provision Guidance/Support in Schools for SEND
- First contact and involvement with parents.

2. SENDCo involvement:

- SENDCo observation and assessment
- Teacher/SENDCo meeting with parents
- Pupil placed on the SEND register
- Strategies in place with teacher
- Strategies reviewed

3. IEP as a result of persistent and enduring underperformance:

1. IEP meeting – SENDCo/Teacher/Parent and outside agency if applicable
2. Targets set
3. Monitoring
4. Appropriate timespan for review of set targets (may range between 6 and 12 weeks depending on the context, and run for at least 2/3 cycles).

4. Educational Psychologist / professional involvement / EHCP if there is likely to be a lifetime impairment, or a wide chronological gap. Other professional involvement may be sought at any stage in the assessment and identification process:

- Investigation visit
- Review visit

Involving Parents

We will have an early discussion with the pupil and their parents when identifying whether the pupil needs special educational provision. These conversations will make sure that:

- Everyone develops a good understanding of the pupil's areas of strength and difficulty.
- We consider any parental concerns.

Everyone understands the agreed outcomes sought for the child.

- Everyone is clear on what the next steps are.

Notes of these early discussions will be added to the pupil's record and shared with parents.

In addition, we will:

- Formally notify parents when it is decided that a pupil will receive SEN support or when a special educational provision is made for a pupil.
- Seek the views of parents at all stages of assessment and provision.
- Try to get to know the parents of pupils with SEND and encourage them to work with us in helping to address the identified needs of the child.
- Work together to build up a more complete picture of a pupil and their needs.
- Encourage parents to feel able to ask about our provision and express their concerns to us.
- Share IEPs with parents.
- Inform parents of the review date and invite them to put forward their own views and contribute to target setting.
- Involve parents in the annual review of those pupils who hold an EHCP.

NLGS will keep records of all who are parents and have parental responsibility for each pupil. When this involves adults in more than one household, we will deal directly with the parent who has day to day responsibility for the pupil. We will seek to involve all parents and those who have parental responsibility in decisions about their child, whilst appreciating the sensitivities that may arise.

Assessing & reviewing pupils' progress towards outcomes

Information collected via:

- Teachers' records
- Evidence/views from the pupil and their teachers
- Data collection (school assessments, specific assessments as applicable)
- Teachers and relevant support staff meeting to discuss pupils
- Advice from external support services (if relevant).

The SEND register at NLGS is reviewed regularly. If progress is adequate, consideration will be given to removal from the SEND register. If progress is inadequate after several interventions have been put in place, we will consider extra interventions in consultation with parents and the pupil. Teachers and relevant professionals contribute to an IEP which is then collated by the SENDCo.

If there are continuing concerns, NLGS can consider requesting a statutory assessment. This will be carried out by the Local Authority and an Education Health Care Plan (EHCP) may be issued.

Access to information on SEND pupils

All records regarding SEND pupils are kept on the NLGS's data system and in Inclusion folders. Any member of staff may read this information, but this information is confidential and cannot be removed from the school. Steps should be taken, in line with the school's data protection policy, to maintain such records securely (see NLGS Data Protection Policy).

A copy of the SEND Register and all IEP's are kept on NLGS's data system and in the Inclusion folder.

Strategies to support specific pupils are also to be found here and all staff are expected to consult with this document.

All teaching staff have information for pupils they teach available on marking and record sheets and through their own class registration and assessment lists on NLGS's data system. Staff are expected to use such data to plan appropriate learning activities for SEND pupils and to differentiate accordingly, in line with the school's teaching and learning policy (see separate school documents).

Key Stage 2-3 transition

Smooth and well managed transition between any school year is crucial for any child and especially so for a child with SEND. The transition from primary to secondary phases is incredibly important for SEND pupils, to ensure that they feel safe and prepared for life in their secondary school.

The SENDCo at NLGS is responsible for SEND students KS2-3 transition, working alongside the senior leader for KS3 to put a transition plan in place for the SEND pupils.

Access Arrangements at KS2/KS4/KS5

"Access arrangements are pre-exam adjustments made for individual candidates based on evidence of need and the candidate's normal way of working. They exist to ensure all candidates have the same opportunity to be successful in their exams and include reasonable adjustments for those candidates with a disability" (QCA website).

Pupils are assessed in KS1/KS2, Year 9 and Year 12 to see if they will qualify for any access arrangements. These are pupils who:

- are referred by teachers as a result of consultation at this stage
- can be referred by parents
- can self-refer
- can also have specific medical conditions to justify access arrangements.

The assessment is likely to include tests for:

Single word reading

- Text level reading comprehension
- Reading fluency
- Spelling
- Writing fluency

A relevant professional may write a report containing information about previous history of need, history of provision, standardised score results from the tests taken and recommendations for access arrangements. Some pupils may qualify for arrangements on other grounds, e.g., because of visual or auditory impairments or on medical grounds, but will also need reports at KS4. Based on these reports, on-line applications are made to exam boards. Exam board approval must be gained and reports with evidence kept on file before any access arrangement can be implemented. For KS2 tests, some access arrangements require a form to be completed e.g., for making a transcript.

The range of possible access arrangements includes:

- additional time
- reader (except for MFL, English language)
- scribe
- transcript
- prompter
- practical helper
- rest breaks
- modified papers

Pupils and their parents/carers are informed whether they qualify for any access arrangement and given information about exactly what will be involved.

When receiving support, pupils sit their exams in a calm, quiet environment that is conducive to learning.

At all stages we work with the Exams Officer, exchanging information and meeting several times a year to plan or discuss any issues that arise.

Progress/Transition at the end of Key Stage 4

All pupils on the SEND register will receive at least one, one to one interview in order to support their transition beyond Year 11.

All leavers are tracked following the summer they leave and contact with SEND pupils will be maintained in order to ensure they do not become or remain NEET (Not in Education, Employment or Training). Since the raising of the participation age (RPA) came into force, all leavers from Year 11 are required to secure further education or training. Progress to employment without formalised training is not permitted and this entitlement is tracked by the school for those pupils covered by this SEND policy.

Making Referrals

If a member of staff feels a pupil in their class is not making adequate progress in their learning, they should first discuss the pupil with the HOF/subject leader to check if they can provide any additional strategies.

If the pupil's progress is still inadequate contact should be made with the SENDCo by email.

Access to the Curriculum and Inclusion

Each school must make reasonable adjustments, including the provision of auxiliary aids and services, to ensure that disabled pupils are not at a disadvantage compared to their peers.

All pupils with an EHCP will have an IEP drawn up. Other vulnerable learners and SEN support pupils will be monitored and interventions organised as appropriate. The EHCP pupils' IEP will outline the nature of their needs and set out targets and strategies which can be adopted to ensure they progress in their education. These targets and strategies are shared with teaching staff and pastoral managers and it is expected that they are incorporated into planning for the identified pupil's learning.

For most children, access to NLGS's broad and balanced curriculum is achieved by differentiation by the teacher, together with general curriculum developments within subject departments which take account of the learning needs to all pupils. We recognise that teaching pupils with SEND is a whole-school responsibility, requiring a whole-school response.

At whatever phase pupils have reached, our emphasis will be upon including them alongside the other children, in the full range of activities NLGS has to offer. This will be achieved by careful consideration of the needs of each child in consultation with teachers and specialists and by either modifying activities or by providing support that will help the child participate in them. Pupils with SEND should receive their full entitlement to a broad and balanced curriculum and one that is not narrowed by withdrawal for intervention. Pupils will only be withdrawn from normal activities when it is felt that they will benefit from some intensive individual work on a skill, which has been identified. Support will be provided predominately within the classroom and will focus on helping pupils reach, maintain or exceed age-related expectations, as well as to meet requirements for external examinations where applicable. Some pupils will benefit from reduced exam entry and additional study support time.

ALL
staff

from KS1 through to the end of KS5 are expected to be involved in supporting SEND learners; this is not solely the job of one individual or specific group of individuals. This requires close co-operation with the Heads of Faculty/subject or phase leader depending on whether it is in the primary or secondary phase, and their teams.

Neither of the above will compromise the general principle that all children will be able to participate in a broad and balanced suitably differentiated curriculum. Lessons are expected to be clearly differentiated for all learners and is clear in teacher planning.

Enabling pupils with SEND to engage in activities available to those in the school who do not have SEND

- All of our extra-curricular activities and school visits are available to all our pupils, including before-and after-school clubs.
- All pupils are encouraged to go on residential trips that take place.
- All pupils are encouraged to take part in sports day/school productions/special workshops, etc.
- No pupil is ever excluded from taking part in these activities because of their SEN or disability.

Support for improving emotional and social development

We provide support for pupils to improve their emotional and social development in the following ways:

- Pupils with SEND are encouraged to be part of the school council and other responsible roles.
- Pupils with SEND are also encouraged to be part of extra-curricular activities to promote teamwork/building friendships etc.

Supporting Children who are looked after by the Local Authority and have SEND Looked-after children and previously looked-after children are significantly more likely to have SEND than their peers. Of those with SEND, a significant proportion will have Education, Health and Care Plans (EHCP). DfE: Promoting the education of looked after children & previously looked after children: February 2018.

Most children with SEND do not have an EHCP. At NLGS we undertake to meet all identified needs through SEN support. However, children with higher levels of need will have EHCP's. A significant proportion of looked-after and previously looked-after children fall into one of these groups.

In respect of looked-after children, the SENDCo will ensure that:

- The special educational needs and disability (SEND) code of practice 0 to 25 years, as it relates to looked- after children, is followed.
- Children's Personal Education Plans (PEP's) work in harmony with their EHC plan to, coherently and comprehensively, set out how their needs are being met.
- The SENDCo will work with relevant professionals to consider how the EHC plan adds to information about how education, health and care needs will be met without duplicating information already in a child's care plan or PEP. Equally, the child's care plan, including their PEP, should feed into the care assessment section of the EHC plan.
- The SENDCo will ensure that, with the help of the Virtual School Head, they identify signs of potential SEN issues, and access further assessment and support where necessary, making full use of the local authority support team.
- Some children may have undiagnosed special needs when they start to be looked after. As part of the PEP process, there are arrangements in place to ensure that any undiagnosed SEN are addressed through the SEND framework as soon as possible.
- Any special educational support provided by the school for looked-after children with SEND but who do not need an EHC plan, will be looked at as part of the child's PEP and care plan reviews by the SENDCo.
- For previously looked-after children, the SENDCo, class teacher, designated teacher and the specialists should involve parents when considering interventions to support their child's progress. They should agree the outcomes to be achieved through SEND support, including a date by which progress will be reviewed. Comments from professionals on proposed SEND provision will be welcomed.

Support Services

NLGS utilises the support services provided by the LA or other bodies as appropriate, in providing for pupils with SEND.

Where appropriate NLGS will liaise with appropriate services/agencies and these may include Health and Social Services departments, CAMHS, Family Solutions, Traveller Service and EMAS Service. Other services include the Speech and Language Service; Occupational therapy; Child and Family Consultation Service.

Concerns about SEND provision

If you want to complain about a school's SEN support, you should do it while your child is still registered at the school. This includes complaints that the school has not provided the support required by your child's education, health and care (EHC) plan.

Follow these steps in order. Move on to the next step if your complaint is not resolved.

1. Talk to the school's SENDCo.
2. Follow the school's complaints procedure.
3. Complain to your local authority.

There is a different process if you disagree with a decision your local authority has made about an EHC plan. EHC plan: Appeal to the Special Educational Needs and Disability Tribunal if you disagree with a decision your local authority has made about an education, health and care (EHC) plan.

Monitoring and Evaluation

The governing board of NLGS will require the Headteacher to evaluate the success of this policy. In order to achieve this, the Headteacher will report annually to the governing board on:

1. The academic progress of SEND pupils as a distinct learner group
2. The number of pupils with SEND in each year group.
3. The pattern of resource allocation to pupils with SEND.
4. Additional resources allocated for pupils with SEND.
5. The level and pattern of support provided at each level average time allocated and the balance of in-class and withdrawal help.
6. Visits by educational psychologists, therapists and other agencies.
7. Difficulties encountered in operating the SEND policy.

Some indicators of success of the policy will be:

- Good or improved attendance of children on the SEND register.
- Good or improved behaviour of children on the SEND register.
- Positive views expressed by parents, e.g., at review meetings, surveys.
- Positive views expressed by pupils, e.g., at review meetings, surveys.
- Evidence of progress, e.g., as shown by improved performance in assessments, reading tests, examinations and teacher devised tests/ tasks and on screening tests.
- Effective support from the local authority and external agencies for pupils with SEND.

Local Authority Local Offer

The Local offer will provide parents/carers with information about how to access services in their area, and what they can expect from those services. With regards to Education, it will let parents/carers and young people know how school and colleges will support them, and what they can expect across the local settings.
